Located in an elevated position above the truly majestic stretch of golden sand that is Mawgan Porth, Atlantic View Bungalow can be found at the end of a private lane in exceedingly tranquil surroundings.

This four bedroom detached home has a vista across the bay and ocean beyond, not to mention an impressive aspect of much of Mawgan Porth and rural inland.

In recent years, the current owners have completed an extensive transformation, combining modern upgrades with tasteful renovations to elevate the property's appeal and functionality.

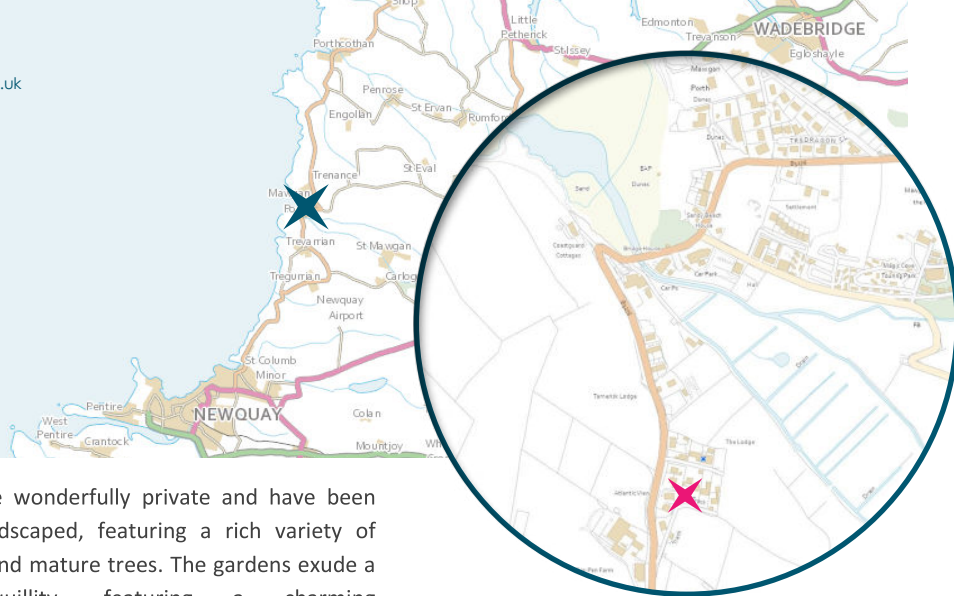

The accommodation comprises a handy boot room with bench storage and seating. This precedes the new contemporary kitchen, comprehensively fitted with navy blue handleless cabinetry, larder units and granite work surfaces. Integrated appliances include Neff hob, oven, extractor and dishwasher as well as a fridge/freezer. The elegant new herringbone engineered oak floor adds a refined aesthetic and continues into the living/dining room. Blending warmth and style, this L-shaped room features a focal point wood burning stove and showcases far reaching views across the bay via two sets of French doors. With space aplenty for multiple sofas, occasional furniture and a full dining table and chairs, it's a versatile setting for both relaxing and entertaining.

There are four bedrooms available, including three generous doubles. The fourth offers versatility and can be used as a single room, home office, or quiet study space. Three of the bedrooms have handy built in wardrobes. A uniquely styled cloakroom complements the modern family shower room, combining practicality with tasteful design. The accommodation is complete with a smart utility cupboard thoughtfully designed to house all the essential white goods. The first floor attic is huge and open with a window to one gable end. This has huge potential for conversion to further accommodation, subject to obtaining the necessary planning permissions and building regulation approval.
